

How to enter data in the nDay Database ICU

- www.nutritionDay.org
- Click on my nDay/login
- go to data entry | upload
- choose subcategory for ICU

The screenshot shows the nutritionDay website interface. In the top right corner, there is a 'DEUTSCH' button and a 'My nDay | Login' button. Below the navigation bar, there are several categories: 'for Hospitals Intensive Care Units Nursing Homes', 'Primary Care', 'for Patients Relatives', 'for Researchers Scientists', 'Education Training', and 'Special Programs'. On the left side, there is a 'My nDay | Login' menu with options: 'Registration', 'Center codes | unit codes', 'Data entry | upload' (highlighted with an orange box and arrow), and 'Reports | download'. The main content area shows 'Data entry | upload for nDay 2023' with a 'Counter' link. Below this, there are several buttons for data entry: 'Data entry for nDay 2023', 'Data entry for nDay 2022' (highlighted with an orange box and arrow), 'Data entry nDay 2022', 'Data entry for nDay 2022', and 'Data entry for nDay 2022'.

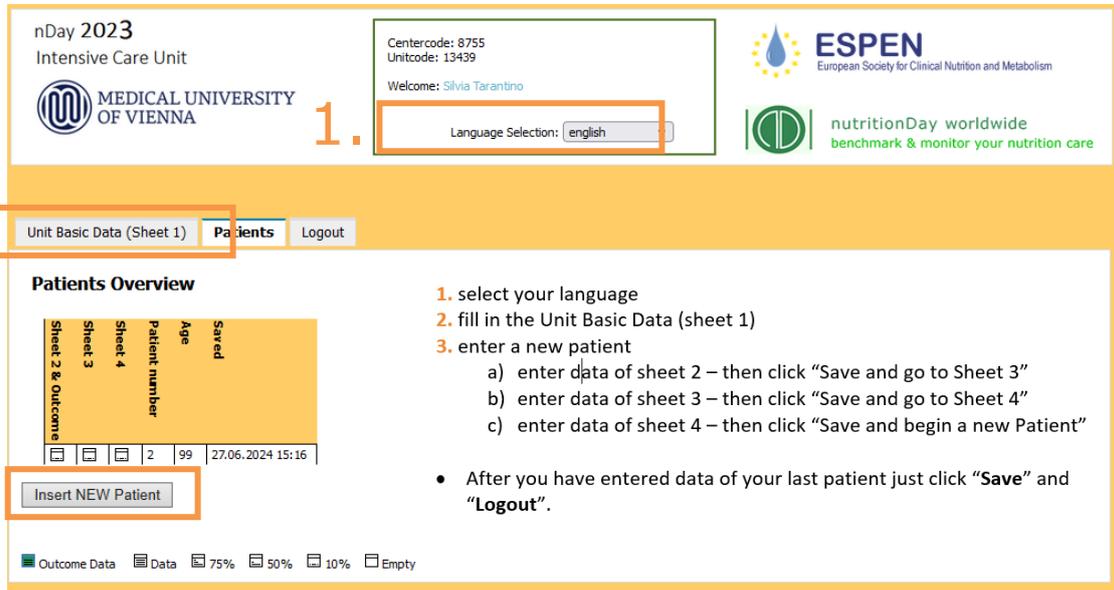

The diagram illustrates the data entry code format and the login form. The code format is shown as centercodeICUunitcode. The login form shows the 'Data Entry Code' field with the value '190ICU123' and the 'Password (Code)' field with the value '123'. A 'Sign in' button is also visible. An orange box highlights the 'Data entry | upload' button in the previous screenshot, with an arrow pointing to the 'Data entry for nDay 2022' button in this diagram. A text box on the right explains how to access the online data entry and provides an example.
