Nursing Homes

Join the worldwide 1-day audit on nutrition care
Together for a better nutrition care

BACKGROUND: Nursing home residents are often elderly people with an increased need for care. With the aim to evaluate the nutritional status of nursing home residents, in 2007 nutritionDay was successfully performed for the first time in nursing homes using easy to complete questionnaires. Since then, the project has been well established in nursing homes all around the world.

Fast and Easy data collection performed on one specific day, nutritionDay is this year on November 12th 2020. Questionnaires compilation do not require special skills nor prior knowledge.

Anonymity: Name and details of your nursing home are encoded and anonymous. Results of a participating nursing home will only be forwarded to the participating facility itself.

BENEFITS: Information on the nutritional status of residents collected on nDay in your facility can be used for quality safety and quality improvement purposes. The nutritionDay report compares the nutritional situation of your nursing home residents with all other participating nursing homes and it provides specific benchmarking of your facility.

Annual participation in nutritionDay allows to monitor potentials and weaknesses of your institution over time.

CERTIFICATE: upon participation your facility will receive a nutritionDay certificate. Data entry can be easily performed online upon registration over the nutritionDay website: www.nutritionday.org
